Champagne and Caviar

Foodies have found that the special feeling a "pop" brings can make every day feel like a celebration. In looking for a special way to elevate your holiday gatherings, pairing Champagne bubbles and caviar is second to none. Osetra caviar varies in color from deep brown to gold. Lighter varieties are more sought after, as they have the richest flavor and come from the oldest of sturgeon.

Plaza Osetra Gold

Coming to us from Vidin, Bulgaria, Plaza Osetra Gold is considered some of the highest quality caviar in the world. Farmed only at the end of their lives in the Black Sea, these Russian Sturgeon produce large, grain size roe with a brilliant gold hue. The flavor profile of this highly prized caviar is rich with a full, creamy finish. Unlike any other farmed caviar, the Plaza Osetra Gold has a uniquely nutty finish.

Paddle Fish

Plaza De Caviar has an excellent option that is from a little closer to home. Coming to us wild from Missouri and Tennessee is their wonderful Paddlefish Caviar. Small to medium grain size roe ranging from pale grey to a dark ash in color, this product is loved by savvy chefs and foodies alike for its vibrant color and attractive price point. Delicate taste with a slightly bitter, briny finish, this is a versatile roe that can be paired with the most expensive champagnes topped on blinis.
