

Celebrate Oktoberfest

Sausage and mustard are a classic combo. Mustard is one of the oldest spices in culinary history, and traditional German sausages have been served with mustard for hundreds of years. Draeger's has scoured our shelves to put together the best combinations for each type of sausage.

Mustard & Sausage Pairing Suggestions

Draeger's Own German Bratwurst

Sausage Flavor:

Draeger's recipe for German Bratwurst has been developed and perfected in our kitchens from our old family recipe. Our fresh brats are made from pork and flavored with caraway, coriander, nutmeg and little fresh lemon juice for balanced flavor.

Draeger's Mustard Pick: →

A mild mustard, like the Edmond Fallois Seed-Style Mustard. Made with traditional techniques, this rustic, old-fashioned mustard has a mild and smooth flavor with just a little spice.

Best Eaten:

On a thick bread roll with sauerkraut or fresh by itself.

$9.49 13.4oz.

Shwarz Bockwurst

Sausage Flavor:

The delicate flavor of this traditional weisswurst, or "white sausage," is an Oktoberfest favorite. Made with pork and veal and seasoned with onion and cardamom.

Draeger's Mustard Pick: →

Sweet or mild mustard like Kozlik's Sweet and Smokey, a mustard made with honey, hickory and garlic.

Best Eaten:

On a bread roll or with a soft pretzel; mustard spread on the pretzel not the sausage!

$7.98 8oz.
